HOUSE OF THOUSAND CANDLES.

A "Mystical" Production at the King Saturday Evening.

Manager Bean of the King announces as his offering on Saturday evening "The House of a Thousand Candles," a drama founded upon Meredith Nicholson's novel of the same name, which has had an extremely long and prosperous run at the Hackett and Daly's theatres in New York.
The play is peculiar in that to describe it one has to coin a name for a new type of drama—"Mystical" is probably the adjective that fits it most aptly.
There is one inviolable rule in witnessing a drama such as this—one must resolutely refrain from thinking. When once this condition is complied with, the play becomes absorbingly interesting. And how many law-abiding citizens there are in this particular direction. The play contains nothing that is not included in the book, and when that appeared about three years ago, it was voraciously devoured by an intelligent reading public throughout the land. For an unusually long time it has maintained its position among the six best sellers; in fact, its publishers claim that the sale was nearly doubled the previous "best seller," "When Knighthood was in Flower."
As a play it has met with wonderful success, not only during the long New York and Chicago runs, but in all the large cities of the East, where it appeared for from two to four engagements. It has to an eminent degree the essential elements of a popular piece, excitement, humor and a delightful love story.

THE CARDBOARD BABY.

Special Moving Pictures for Ladies and Children at Colonial Today.

The Cardboard Baby, a special feature which Mr. Lamkin has advertised for the Colonial today is claimed to be the greatest children's moving picture ever manufactured. It tells the story of a little girl with the uncontrollable temper, who was cured by the good fairy. Of course the whole thing is a dream, but the amusing and interesting situations throughout the film make it an exceptionally clever one, and one that has made more than good wherever shown. There will be two matinees today, one at 2:30 and the other at 4:30 besides the regular night shows.

FOR THE PUBLIC HEALTH.

The Common Drinking Cups in Cars Are Going.

Austin, Jan. 26.—The Rock Island Railroad is now installing individual drinking cup vending machines with a supply of paper cups in each car. The Rock Island is following the lead of the Missouri, Kansas and Texas, as announced by the General Passenger Agent, W. S. St. George, some time ago. The "Katy Flyer" and all the other important trains of that road will be equipped with individual drinking cups. The San Antonio and Aransas Pass Railway is another line which has installed the improved service. Nearly all trunk lines of the Southwest were effected by the action of Kansas last September in abolishing the common drinking cup and that of the Oklahoma Commissioner of Health, J. C. Mahr, who has ordered the discontinuance of the use of the common drinking cup to take effect next May. The quick action of the roads has received the commendation of Dr. Brumby, Secretary of the Texas State Board of Health.
